There is a we'l-founded belief of serious disaf-fection in the rebel Government at Charleston, amounting almost to insurrection, by means of the apparent abandonment of the South Carolina coast to National invasion and the immense de struction of property that owners have willingly consigned to the flames. They have destroyed not less than $10,000,000 worth of cotton which, at last accounts, they were deploring, as they supposed the blockade was about to be raised by England and they might have shipped and sold it.
They were holding Jeff Davis responsible for these disastrous losses and many citizens were bold enough to say that the old Government was
